| Inventory Photographs  | We normally store digital photographs on our server and also keep backup copies on our archive system. We do not usually send copies to agents unless specifically asked to. There is an additional £5.00 fee if you want photographs copied onto a CD and mailed to you with a signed statement confirming the date the photographs were taken. |        |           |        |                 |           |
| Printed Inventories  | We usually email new inventories to agents in either Word or PDF format, whichever is preferred. We will also post two unfolded printed copies to agents for an additional £5.00.  |        |           |        |                 |           |

Whenever possible we prefer to take inventories at least four days before new tenants move into a property. This allows us sufficient time to type and email the inventory to the agent so they have it available for the tenants on the day they move in.

When we email inventories to agents we also attach any comments relating to damage or repair issues that we have observed. Please note that we are not qualified surveyors and advise agents, landlords and tenants to seek independent professional advice if they are unsure about the condition, safety or any other aspect of a property or its contents.

Commercial Premises

We have a long history of inspecting commercial premises for both landlords and tenants. We can undertake a range of services that includes:
